

INJURIES NOT FATAL

Attempt To Assassinate M. Labori.

EFFORTS PROVE UNSUCCESSFUL.

Physicians Find Wound Not Dangerous.

INTENDED VICTIM SAYS, "NO TRAGEDY THIS TIME."

M. De Mange, His Colleague in the Dreyfus Courtmartial, Told to Proceed with Trial—Injured Attorney Warned Last Night That an Attack on Him Was Contemplated—He Laughed, and Refused to Take Any Precautions—Tremendous Excitement Still Prevails—Two French Journalists Come to Blows—Prisoner Pale When He Entered Court

Rennes, Aug. 14.—[Special]—M. Labori, one of Dreyfus' counsel, who was shot early this morning while on his way to the court martial, is not believed to be fatally shot.

After the attack he was able to walk to the doctor's office and climbed the stairway leading to the office.

The physicians found a wound under the left shoulder made by a small bullet, but the wound was not deep.

"No Tragedy This Time"

When M. De Mange, Labori's colleague, arrived at his side,

MAITRES LABORI AND DEMANGE.

the victim called cheerily: "No tragedy this time." He told De Mange to proceed with the trial and that he hoped to be present and assist him all the week.

He stated that he was warned last night that an attack on him was contemplated, but Labori who is a fearless man, laughed, at the warning and refused to take any precautions. It is not known whether the attack is connected with the Deroulede plot or was the work of some lone fanatic.

The tremendous excitement which followed the shooting still prevails throughout Rennes.

No Startling Testimony

Ex-Ministers of War Billel, Cavaillac, Zurlinden and Chanoine were called but none of them gave any startling testimony, there being contention among themselves with the statement that they were sure Dreyfus was guilty.

Ex-Minister of Foreign Affairs Hanoulx said that he had no knowledge of secret evidence having been submitted to the judges of the court martial nor of any communications from foreign powers, implicating Dreyfus. The court thereupon adjourned until Wednesday, as tomorrow is a church holiday.

Journalists Come to Blows

The sensation caused by the announcement of the shooting quickly died out in the court room, but not until two French journalists had come to blows.

Dreyfus was pale when he entered the room. In the confrontation of Gen. Mercier by Casimir-Perier he denied Mercier's statements as did M. Paleologue, who also confronted Mercier.

The ex-president denied that Le Brun-Renaud had told him that Dreyfus had confessed.

Cabinet Meeting Called

Paris, Aug. 14.—[Special]—A cabinet meeting was called immediately after the receipt of the news that Labori had been shot.

Orders were issued to the Rennes authorities to redouble the vigilance as it is feared that a general plot exists to assassinate Dreyfus and his principal defenders.

Labori's Condition Worse

It is stated this afternoon that Labori's condition is worse and complications may set in.

Col. Jouaust and Gen. Mercier have expressed their sympathy. The military forces are searching the woods for the assassin.

Rennes, Aug. 14.—[Special]—Labori's assassin has been arrested.

EVENTS FAVOR CAPTAIN DREYFUS.

Death Blow Given to the Conspiracy Against Him.

Rennes, Aug. 14.—The death blow was to have been given the Dreyfus cause Saturday, but it was the adversaries of revision on whom the blow fell. They took for their coup the moment when Gen. Mercier was at Rennes, endeavoring by his audacity and his lies to impose his views on the court-martial. M. Deroulede and his accomplices arrested in Paris had everything ready for the "blockades." The conspiracy which Gen. Rogel's cowardice caused to fall a few months ago was all in hand again and was to have been consummated simultaneously at Paris and at Rennes.

Mr. Deroulede's lieutenant, Mr. Marcel-Habert, when arrested at Laval, forty-six miles east of Rennes, was on his way to take command of the bands here which tried to create disorder after Saturday's sitting.

The strong act of the government has produced a profound impression here. A week ago agents of the nationalists arrived here and organized themselves. Some of those well-trained "perturbators" from Algiers were imported, and professional public agitators from Paris came down under the personal direction of Secretary Jules Guerin and M. Gerard, the latter of whom was arrested here.

The young men's royalist clubs and the religious associations gathered Saturday evening and tried their hands at disturbances in the public streets but were quickly put to rout by the republican workmen. Today Rennes is quiet and it is now believed that the trial will end in victory for the cause of Dreyfus, especially as resolute men are here, resolved to support the valiant minority and to see that at last justice is done.

M. GODFREY ALSO ARRESTED.

Leader of the Jeunesse Royaliste Implicated in the Deroulede Plot

Paris, Aug. 14.—Demonstrations occurred Sunday evening outside the offices of the Anti-Semite league, where Jules Guerin, president of the league, and Max Rogel, the former Jew-baiting mayor of Algiers, against whom orders of arrest were issued Saturday on a charge of conspiring to bring about a change of government, are still besieged by the police.

In the course of the evening M. Godfrey, president of the committee of the Jeunesse Royaliste, was arrested, and a dispatch from Saint Lo, capital of the department of Manche, announces the arrest of M. Le Menest, secretary of the League of Patriots.

Out of thirty-seven warrants issued twenty-five have been served. Those arrested include, besides M. Deroulede, the leader of the plot against the government, Comte de Sabran Pontevès, Comte Chevilly, M. de Montcourt, secretary of the Jeunesse royaliste, and M. de Frechenocourt, vice president of the Oeillet Blanc, or White Carnation society.

The situation is believed to be less dangerous than is pretended. The arrests serve to turn attention from the Dreyfus affair, while the seizure of papers may enable the government to make further examples among the superior officers of the army.

War Story Ridiculed.

Berlin, Aug. 14.—The statements of Gen. Mercier before the court martial at Rennes Saturday regarding the imminence of war between Germany and France excites only ridicule here. The semi-official newspapers declare that there was never an idea of war.

Calms the South Americans.

Rio Janeiro, Aug. 14.—Col. Charles Page Bryan, United States minister to Brazil, in an important communication to the Argentine and Brazilian press asserts that the United States wants nothing of South America but trade and harmony. The communication has already had a good effect.

FORECAST OF WEATHER

Chicago, Aug. 14.—[Special]—Forecast for Wisconsin: Generally fair tonight and Tuesday.

"They Did Good Work."

American women are receiving the credit for the very successful management of the bazaar for the Charing Cross hospital, held in London. The total profits were $70,000, of which $10,000 was taken in at the stall managed by Mrs. James Brown Potter. It is an open question if any other one-bazaar anywhere ever realized such a sum.

Mrs. Arthur Paget was one of the principal leaders, and she remarked that the bazaar was doing much toward an "Anglo-American alliance."

The American stall was attended to by Mrs. Choate, Mrs. Mackay, Mrs. Bradley-Martin, Mrs. Drexel, Mrs. Ronalds and Miss Choate, who succeeded in realizing an exceedingly creditable sum. The flower booth alone realized $4,000; one of the last buttonhole bouquets was sold by Mrs. Paget for $25. The Prince of Wales sent a gift of $500.

At the stall of Mrs. Brown-Potter persons paid exorbitant sums to quench their thirst. A titled gentleman paid $50 for one cocktail.

The Costliest Wine.

The most costly and precious wine in the world is that contained in a cask named the Rose, in the Bremen town hall cellars. This Rudesheim, of the vintage of the year 1653, is of the color of old ale and has a wonderful aroma. It is never sold, but is used exclusively for the sick of Bremen, the only exceptions having been when a small bottle was presented to Emperor William I., another to Frederick III., and one to Prince Bismarck. The supposed money value of this wine is something beyond credence, but, as it is never sold, this detail is of slight importance. Old as it is, it is improbable that any but connoisseurs could get it down, as the taste is something terrific.

Said to Be the Fastest Vessel Afloat.

The Akebono, the new Japanese destroyer, is said to be the fastest vessel afloat. She is the third of six commissioned by the Japanese government, two of them having already been sent out. She can hold more than 160 tons of coal, is 220 feet long, 20½ feet beam, with an armament of one 12-pounder, five 6-pounders and two 18-inch swivel torpedo tubes. Steam is supplied by four Yarrow straight tube water tube boilers, each indicating 1,600 horsepower and weighing eighteen tons each. One of her best features is that during her trial trip at full speed no flame was visible at her funnels. The absence of heeling, too, when she changes her course, so marked in some of these boats, is remarkable.

KENOSHA BRAGGART WAS KNOCKED OUT

EARLY MORNING PRIZE FIGHT NEAR THAT CITY.

William Craig, a Waukesha County Young Man, Killed by Lightning—Arrested for Impersonating a Priest—Robberies Committed at Oconto—Latest News From Badgerdom.

Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 14.—"Jim" Jensen and "Ed" Lanagan, bricklayers, were the principals in a prize fight that was pulled off early yesterday morning in the old burying grounds south of town. Jensen had issued challenges to all his acquaintances. His boasted prowess was a terror to his fellow workmen and they hailed with delight the willingness of Lanagan. Arrangements were made for the fight and principals, accompanied by the seconds, timekeepers, and about fifty sports, went to the fighting grounds. While the seconds were weighing the gloves, Jensen challenged any man in the crowd to fight after he had polished off Lanagan.

Jensen lasted only one round. Lanagan landed heavily five times and when the call for the second round sounded Jensen acknowledged that he had enough.

His brother was dazed by the shock, but managed to go to the house without assistance, although he seemed to have lost control of the tendons of his neck and could not raise his head.

Seeds Survive Great Cold.

A New York experimenter has been trying the effect of very low temperatures on seeds. Seeds of peas, oats, barley and wheat were kept for several hours at 312 degrees below zero—that is what he says—for 110 hours. After being thawed out and planted the seeds grew all right. There seems to be no further cause for alarm over freezing seeds. We seldom have it as low as 312 degrees below zero for 110 hours at a time, even in Dakota.

LIEUT. GILMORE REPORTED SAFE

Admiral Watson Cables Confirmation.

CAPTURED AT BALER BY THE FILIPINOS.

Colonel Parker's Cavalry Squadron Drive the Rebels Out of San Mateo and Take the Town, After a Short But Fierce Battle—Two Americans Killed—Major Cronin Joins the Victorious Colonel—Colored Troops Distinguish Themselves in the Engagement.

Washington, Aug. 14.—[Special]—Admiral Watson at Manila, has cabled confirmation this morning of the safety of Lieut. Gilmore and the boat's crew who were captured at Balser some time ago by the Filipinos.

Manila, Aug. 14.—A squadron of cavalry numbering 250 men, commanded by Capt. Parker, while reconnoitering the country in the vicinity of San Mateo, northeast of Manila, came across 300 Filipinos, who opened fire on them. The cavalrymen replied and then charged. The enemy, following their usual tactics, took to flight, retreating into San Mateo. The Americans pursued them, drove them and a number of other rebels out of the town, and took possession of the place. The cavalry lost two killed and fourteen wounded, while the enemy lost twenty-five killed.

A party of troops under command of Major Cronin moved through the swamps on the west bank of the Marikina river and reached a point opposite San Mateo after Capt. Parker had captured the town.

Scouting parties operating in the neighborhood of Bacolor, which was recaptured by Col. Bell last Wednesday, report that the towns of Guagua, Lubao and Florida Blanca have been deserted by the rebels.

Another reconnoitering party reports from Perac, northwest of Bacolor, that the insurgents have also abandoned that town.

It is reported that Aguinaldo has established his headquarters in the Gabang mountains.

Major Cronin experienced many difficulties arising from the condition of the country and failed to effect a junction with Capt. Rivers' west of San Mateo, as had been planned. Capt. Rivers, advancing, took an outpost of the enemy two miles southwest of San Mateo. He then encountered strong resistance among the hills; the enemy firing from excellent positions. Having failed to connect with Major Cronin, and seeing that the town was already occupied by the Americans, Capt. Rivers withdrew, covering his withdrawal by a heavy volley. He lost a sergeant killed.

Capt. Parker on advancing found the enemy strongly entrenched on the far side of some ricefields about a mile wide and covered with deep mud. Pushing forward rapidly, he routed the Filipinos after forty minutes' fighting, and then continued the march upon San Mateo, which he entered without serious resistance about 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Major Cronin entered the town about 4:30 o'clock. The Americans still occupy the place. Our men were exhausted by the heavy marching. Twenty-three of the enemy are known to have been killed.

This is the first action in which Col. Burt's colored troops participated. They behaved well, their leaders having difficulty in holding them back. Gen. Young accompanied Capt. Parker's column and was under fire throughout the engagement. It is estimated that the enemy numbered between 300 and 400 men.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Secretary Root said last night that the recruiting stations would be kept open and enlistments made so long as the insurrection in the Philippines continued.

He does not think it will be necessary to send more troops to the Philippines than those that have been designated, but the president wishes the war department to be ready for any emergency, and the recruiting will continue until Aguinaldo is captured or surrenders.

It is not probable that other regiments will be organized until it is known whether they will be needed, but the enlistments will be made and the men held in readiness for filling regiments now in the field or to be organized as they may be needed.

Errors in Pension Statement.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Commissioner of Pensions Evans has reviewed the statement of pension-office work for the year issued several days ago and found several errors. The corrected statement shows that out of the appropriation of $140,000,000 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1899, $138,253,923 was paid to pensioners. During the year 40,991 names were added to the rolls and 43,186 were dropped for various causes.

FOOT BALL AT THE STATE UNIVERSITY

MANAGER FISHER GETS CREAM OF THE OLD PLAYERS.

Work on Cardinal Team to Begin Earlier Than Usual—Phil King to Be Assisted by Graduate Coaches—Captain O'Dea's Letter to the Sentinel.

Janesville people take a great interest in the Wisconsin University football team, the enthusiasm being added to because of the fact that one of our most promising young men, John L. Fisher, successfully manages the strong organization of gridiron players. The following letter from the pen of Patrick O'Dea, the efficient captain of the Wisconsin football team to The Milwaukee Sentinel will therefore be of local interest:

"A football epidemic will break out at the University of Wisconsin about Sept. 15, and rage with increasing violence until Nov. 30. Never has the fever threatened the gridiron enthusiasts in such a violent form as the symptoms are now showing. The schedule for the Badger team is the most important for several years, as the first game between real westerners and the east will be between Yale and Wisconsin Oct. 21. Then there are games with Michigan, Illinois, Northwestern and Minnesota and in all probability with Chicago, for Pat O'Dea says he would like to meet the Maroon kickers again. When O'Dea wants a thing he generally gets it. This aggregation of games will of course give a lead on the western championship, a condition of affairs that has not existed since '91."

Working on a Big Scale

"At Wisconsin they are going in football on a big scale, far more preparation having already been expended than at this time during any other season. What the probable make up of the team will be no one can predict at this time of the year. The men with a few exceptions will be new, although there will be lots of men in the university who are thoroughly conversant with the rules of this most scientific game. Pat O'Dea, the Cardinals' captain, will not say a word about the men who will play on his team, but he will not deny that the following men will report for practice by the 10th of September: Peel, Cochems, Curtis, Yanger, Mather, Chamberlain, Muther, Fugit and Comstock, and all of the second eleven. This is not a brilliant prospect, but it is not bad, for some very promising youngsters are sure to turn up from the Milwaukee and Madison High schools.

"But the greatest stress is now being laid on securing coaches for the various positions. This year there will be at least one coach, either alumni or professional, for each position on the team. Manager Fisher has secured the cream of the old players to come back to their alma mater during the first of the season to coach the youngsters at the critical time of the season. Altogether the manager has secured twelve coaches and trainers for the entire season, so that the care the players get will be the best ever furnished at Wisconsin or anywhere in the West this season."

King for Head Coach.

"Phil King of Princeton, will of course have undisputed sway as head coach. On him will rest the entire policy of the training and coaching. Whether this policy will vary any from that pursued last year, is doubtful, but the team this season will be heavier in the line than the '98 eleven, and this fact may alter his plans. The retention of King as head coach is receiving the heartiest backing from both alumni and undergraduates, as his name seems coupled with victory for a Wisconsin team."

"Andrew O'Dea, the rowing coach, will preside at the head of the training table. This will be a big improvement over the table last year, as the diet then was terribly monotonous. It varied from roast beef, potatoes and corn, to corn, potatoes and roast beef."

McCarthy to Develop Halfbacks.

"Probably the most important change in the coaching policy has just been made in securing Charles McCarthy of Brown university, to coach the backs, paying special stress to developing full-back material. This man has a remarkable record, and is without doubt the greatest football player old Brown ever turned out. He played on his eastern team for four years, until he was graduated in the spring of '97. Last year he coached the University of Georgia, and, although the team was light, defeated Vanderbilt 4-0, and this team was the supposed champions of the South, as it defeated Virginia in a warm contest on Thanksgiving day. Here is a partial account of McCarthy's record: Five touchdowns against Yale, three against Harvard, and two against Pennsylvania. With this record in view, Harry Beechers placed him on the All-American eleven of '96. Mr. McCarthy entered Wisconsin last year after the season was over in the south and is now studying history with the intention of taking the Ph. D. degree at the spring commencement."

Five Graduate Coaches.

Pushing McCarthy very closely in importance is Walter Alexander, the well-known tackle on the '96 team. Alexander is the third of the salaried coaches, and his special field will be the development of the second eleven and the coaching of the tactics. Alexander will have the practical direction of affairs until King arrives September 15. He is considered one of the best tackles that Wisconsin has ever produced, and his appointment as graduate coach was strongly backed by the alumni."

"Ranking next in authority come four graduate men who are expected to do considerable individual coaching. Former Captain Richards will come up to Madison from Racine on the first of the month and will show the colts how to use to buck Minnesota's line for five yards and circle the end in the old style. He is the best line backer that ever wore the Cardinal. Then Dr. Pyre will be in evidence as usual to play the tackles for the new boys. His reputation at that position is well known. Former Captain Riordan is scheduled to appear at the campus every Friday and Saturday evenings to direct the guard play. He is at present teaching in the Baraboo High schools, so that he can devote only these two days to the work, but his aid to the guards will be invaluable. Earl Anderson, for three years and on the 'Varsity team, will be in Madison all of the season, and has consented to aid the end men in every way possible. His strength at this point of the game is unquestionable, and this will assure a full knowledge of the game to the men who occupy that position on the '99 eleven."

"With James Temple, the well known professional trainer, whom the university is trying to secure to assist O'Dea in conditioning the men, and this complete aggregation of professional and amateur coaches to take care of them, Wisconsin ought to get into something approximating championship form.

Illinois a Dark Horse.

"The problem that confronts the men is a double one. How will Wisconsin show up against Yale Oct. 21, and how will she figure in the western championship? Michigan will have a heavy team, but there will be four new men in important positions. The Wolverines do not appear for practice until later in the season than either Wisconsin or Illinois and will be thus handicapped, although when they do get together the climate of the lake state is better adapted for conditioning than is that of the other states. The problem that confronts them is to build up a rush line of heavy material and to replace the right half-back whom they lose this year."

"With Illinois the case is entirely different as nine and possibly ten men will be back at Champaign when the season opens. They may lose Wilmarth, their star quarter-back, but otherwise their team is unimpaired. The man from Champaign will figure very largely in the championship games. Last year they had practically a new team. Graduate Coach Huff is a base ball specialist and not a football man, so they imported Smith of Princeton, to aid him. In one of the practice games Smith got his arm broken inside of two weeks after he began to coach and was laid up for nearly the remainder of the season. But in spite of all these adversities the southern eleven finished the season by drubbing the Carlisle Indians in tip-top fashion. Their three center men do not figure in the bantam-weight class, as they weigh on the average 210 pounds per man, and the remainder of the line is as heavy in proportion. The Champaign men play the Wolverines at Champaign before Wisconsin meets them in Milwaukee on Nov. 11, and this makes things look as if the championship game of the year would be played on that date. The game ranks in importance equally with the Michigan-Wisconsin contest in Chicago on Nov. 30.

Early Preparations For Yale Game

"It will not be surprising if Wisconsin makes a very good showing against old Eli in her game in the east, though Yale may regard it as more or less of a practice game, but will make careful preparations for the contest, as it would not do for her reputation to receive a drubbing at the hands of a Western organization. Wisconsin will take twenty men East and leave no stone unturned to make a creditable showing. It is for this game that the candidates will receive their call early in September, and this is why Coach King will report at Madison two weeks sooner than his contract calls for. Capt. O'Dea is especially interested in this contest, as he will be able to measure 'legs' with the crack eastern punters and see if he can repeat his feat on Sheppard field last Thanksgiving. Then he made a successful drop kick from the sixty-yard line, a feat that has never been equalled east or west."

Pat O'Dea Explains System.

"The system of coaching will be the same as in past years, as the Princeton style of play as adopted by Wisconsin and taught by Phil King will be continued. King will have full and complete charge of the team, assisted by Alexander, Pyre, Richards, McCarthy, Anderson and Riordan, who are all more or less conversant with King's style of play. McCarthy has had experience with the Princeton style of play in the east. All the others have learned King's style at Wisconsin. The team will start actual training on Monday, September 4. The work of the first two weeks will consist of passing, falling on the ball, punting, catching punts and tackling."

"The candidates will be coached in their various positions by alumni who have played the positions for Wisconsin in former years. Alexander and Pyre will coach the tackles, Riordan the guards, Anderson the ends, Richards and McCarthy the backs, and 'Andy' O'Dea will look after the physical condition of the men. When King arrives September 15, the team work will be started. The candidates will then be given the kind of work that will benefit them for the Yale game October 21. Special attention will be paid to line men and every effort will be made towards securing a heavy line that will withstand Yale attacks. Last year Wisconsin's team averaged but 160 pounds, which was found too light for effective work on heavy grounds. It is expected that the incomers heavy material, and with material the rest will be left to the competent staff of coaches and Wisconsin 'grit."

"There is an impression abroad that Wisconsin will change her style of coaching this year. This is not so. It will be the same as the last three years. The alumni coaches who have played under King will be used to assist King in his work, and will be entirely under the direction of King."

JANESVILLE WAS VICTORIOUS

Defeated Jefferson in Last Saturday's Game.

The local Y. M. C. A. team returned home last Saturday evening with smiles of satisfaction tickling their faces, they having taken the game of ball that day from the Jefferson boys, by a score of 8 to 4.

It is said by those who witnessed the game that both teams played poor, very poor ball, resulting in many costly errors. It was nevertheless an interesting game, and some phenomenal plays were made. Roessler made a very pretty one-handed catch, and Blakely's running catch brought forth hearty applause from the spectators. Downs in center field also did his share in carrying off the honors of the game.

These two teams will meet again Aug. 22, at Clinton, at the time of the harvest festival.

A SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY AT NEWARK

HELD YESTERDAY BY COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

Services Conducted All Day, and Were Presided Over by J. T. Wright of This City—Baptist Church There a Scene of Rare Beauty.—Meet at Edgerton Next.

Newark was out in full force yesterday. The Baptist church there was a scene of rare beauty. Young men and maidens, old men and children, fathers, mothers, uncles and aunts, all were there.

The pure white dresses with adornment of flowers and ribbons, gave contrasts most striking and beautiful.

The exercises were unique and impressive. Of six schools represented four had a program of their own of songs and recitations. Singing by the Norwegian Lutheran school was worthy of mention, as also by Union school Glesley district, Miss C. A. Thomson, superintendent, who also led the convention in song.

The papers read and addresses made were instructive and doubtless will give fresh life to the study of the book of books. Among the speakers were the Rev. J. Berg, pastor the Norwegian Lutheran church; J. H. Kinney of Chicago; C. Kelsey, Missionary American Sunday School Union (Beloit), D. Bullis of Avon, and L. D. Williams, Newark.

It was a rare treat to meet and hear from J. H. Kinney, who has the honor of being the first president of our county association, thirty years ago. Although many years have elapsed, he does not seem a day older and never will grow old. Much credit is due to Missionary Kelsey, whose efficient planning made the meeting so helpful.

The services continued all day and were presided over by J. T. Wright of this city.

The next rally is expected to be held on the twenty-seventh at Edgerton and the annual convention at Beloit, September 19 and 20.

A Tiny Church.

The smallest church in actual use is in Luffington, Sussex. It is about 16 by 20 feet in the interior, with very thick buttressed walls, and so much is occupied by a disproportionate pulpit that only about thirteen worshippers can crowd into the room. It was built in mediaeval times.—Philadelphia Record.

THE CELERY CROP.

The Kalamazoo District Will Produce 1,000 Carloads This Year.

This is one of the men who raise the nation's celery crop. Kalamazoo is the metropolis of Michigan's celery district, and from the Kalamazoo river bottoms this year there will be shipped, it is estimated, 1,000 carloads of celery. One million bunches can be packed in a car.

Another interesting fact about this year's celery crop is that it will be sent to market about four weeks earlier than usual. This is due to the favorable weather of this summer. It is the peculiarity of soil which makes Kalamazoo the leader in celery production. It is a muck to which there seems to be no bottom that makes the celery so sweet. There are between 4,000 and 5,000 acres of it all set out in plants.

It is claimed that the Kalamazoo river formerly overran the district. Thousands of acres have been reclaimed from swamps and made to produce from $500 to $800 per acre. A Hollander who made $800 in a year from an acre and a quarter patch says that in sinking a well on his place he found the rich black soil to extend far down into the earth, in some places 10 and 12 feet.

The soil is of a saline character, free of some of the forms of iron oxides, so that the plant grows clean and white. Among the allied industries are canning, putting it up in glass jars, making celery pickles, celery mustard and celery salt. There is also a distilled extract used in the bars of the country for fancy drinks.

Ninety per cent of the celery growers are Hollanders, and a large per cent of the product is raised inside the city limits of Kalamazoo. The city directory of Kalamazoo contains a half dozen pages of their names.

COUNSEL FOR DREYFUS.

His Lawyers Have Been His Undaunted Champions For Years

Maitre Labori and Demange, counsel for Captain Dreyfus in the present retrial at Rennes, have been the champions of the persecuted officer from the first. In fact, much of the credit for the investigations and exposures which resulted in his being delivered from bondage on Devil's Island must be given to them. Through the past four years their activity has never ceased. They have befriended Mme. Dreyfus in many ways and have struggled along in the cause of the prisoner, facing defeat after defeat.

Both of these gentlemen are eminent French lawyers. Maitre Labori gained a worldwide reputation as counsel for Emile Zola when the novelist was tried for libel on account of his famous "J'accuse" letter.

Ferdinand Labori was born at Rheims in 1860 and was educated at the Lycee there. Choosing the law as his profession, he in due course enrolled himself as a student at the Ecole de Droit.

His first important case was in 1894, when he defended the miscreant Vall-lant, who threw the bomb into the chamber of deputies. In that case the prisoner's guilt was too clear to admit of being obscured by any art of advocacy, but Labori left nothing undone that could possibly benefit his client.

From this point M. Labori's rise in his profession was rapid, and it was his spirited conduct of the case for his client in the Zola trial which gave him his place in the front rank of advocates.

In the accompanying illustration Maitre Labori is shown seated, while Maitre Demange is the one standing.

ENGLAND'S WOMEN.

Difficulty of Obtaining Means of Earning a Living.

One fact which stood prominently out in the statements made at the annual meeting in London of the Society for Promoting the Employment of Women, because, perhaps, of the emphasis given it by the chairman, Sir Owen Roberts, was that there were 2,000,000 more women in this country than men, says the London News. Obviously, therefore, the difficulty of obtaining work for such of them as had of necessity to earn their own living was greater even than when males had to be dealt with. And this was increased by the comparative difficulty hitherto experienced in providing the necessary technical training for them. On this point, however, Sir Owen Roberts pointed out hopefully to the effort now made by the county council in establishing schools of domestic economy. The chairman also pleaded for special consideration for gentlewomen who had reached middle life without having acquired skill in work of a definite kind, these being the saddest cases that come under the notice of the society. Lady Knightley of Fawley, who moved the adoption of the report which dealt with the work of the fortieth year of the society, pointed out that the market for women shorthand writers and typewriters was shorted, and suggested that women should turn their attention to dairying and the direction of laundries.

TURKEY'S FINANCES GOOD.

Surprise Occasioned by the Statement of All Ferrouh Bey.

Some surprise has been occasioned in official circles here by the authorized statement of the Turkish minister, All Ferrouh Bey, that the financial affairs of the Turkish government are in excellent condition. "There appears to be an opinion," he says, "among the American people that our government is in need of financial assistance. This is a grave error. At no time since the Crimean war has Turkey been so well equipped as to her monetary apparatus. Our public debt has been yearly decreased, until now it is but a trifle. So rapidly are our revenues increasing that we are about to change our fiscal system in order to meet the growing demands." The minister's reason for making this statement was his desire to discourage and disparage the projected purchase of Palestine by the wealthy Hebrews for the establishment of a free Jewish nation. The minister notices in the press accounts the allegation that if the promoters of this project are willing to pay enough money their scheme will be successful. This proposition he considers. Money is of no use to the Turkish government. "It has all the money it wants. This information from so high an authority on Turkish affairs comes in very appropriately just now in connection with the long delay in the settlement of American claims against that government. Mr. Straus, our minister, was instructed when he went to Turkey to press the American claims urgently. His dispatches show that he has made some progress in the negotiation, but as yet is able to report no definite results. The Turkish government's endeavor has been to shirk responsibility for our missionaries and so put off the day of final settlement. The poverty of the sultan has heretofore been regarded as one of the prime causes of this vexatious delay. It has been frequently maintained that the Turks would pay if they could, and that their persistent desire to negotiate was merely an excuse for their poverty.—Washington Times.

Coinage at Philadelphia Mint.

The report of the coinage of the United States mint in Philadelphia during the fiscal year shows the full value to be $60,794,401.97. Of this amount, $49,019,180 was in gold; $9,918,311.05 in silver, and $956,910.14 in base metal. The number of pieces of gold minted was as follows: Double eagles, 1,669,368; eagles, 893,142; half-eagles, 1,508,022; quarter-eagles, 24,116; total number of gold pieces, 4,094,648. The silver pieces coined were as follows: Dollars, 3,466,709; half-dollars, 3,306,709; quarter-dollars, 11,904,709; dimes, 18,220,709. Of base metal the coins minted were as follows: Five cents, 11,539,732; cents, 37,392,354; the total number of gold pieces was 4,094,648; of silver, 36,893,836; of base metal, 49,532,086. The total number of pieces coined was 90,525,570.

REMARKABLE FEATS

In Fast Telegraphing by Western Union Operators.

Chicago Tribune: Some remarkable feats in fast telegraphing have recently been accomplished at the mail office of the Western Union company in this city. When an operator handles 125 to 150 messages in a half-day or 250 to 300 in the full day of nine hours, it is considered good work. But on several occasions lately the number of messages handled by some of the "gilt-edged" operators, ambitious to establish a record, has been nearly doubled. In keeping the record of business handled each day number sheets are provided with 500 numbers to each sheet. One "sent" and one "received" sheet are kept on each wire, and to "run the sheet out" means to handle 500 messages. Considerable rivalry sprung up among the operators, working the St. Louis wires as to who could run the sheet out earliest in the afternoon—beginning on No. 1 at 8 a. m. Operators Horn and Boyle established the first record by sending up to the 500 mark at 4:45 p. m. The next day Operators McNeillie and Dorn beat this record fifteen minutes, finishing their 500 at 4:30 p. m. But the exceedingly fast time of the operators on the St. Louis wire has since been eclipsed by two operators on the St. Paul wire, C. L. Fuhrman and J. T. White, who received from Operators F. Bunnell and S. Black, sending in St. Paul, 500 messages from 8 a. m. to 3:40 p. m. From 10 to 11 o'clock in the morning Bunnell sent and Fuhrman received 71 messages in the single hour, and in the afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock Black and White equaled that speed. This record stands at present as one never before equaled in either of the two offices, and perhaps in no other office in the world where messages are taken direct from the wire and read, without further revision, to be delivered to the addressee. On a recent afternoon C. L. Fuhrman, working on the St. Paul wire, received 253 messages in 265 minutes, from 12:30 p. m. until 4:55 p. m., taking them on a typewriter.

HERBERT SMITH COMMITTS SUICIDE

New York Man Ends His Life Here.

SHOT HIMSELF THROUGH THE TEMPLE SATURDAY NIGHT.

Deed Committed at the South Main Street Home of His Aunt, Mrs.

A. F. Phillips, With Whom He Was Visiting—Discovery Was Not

Made Until 2 P. M. Yesterday—

Business Reverses and Nervous

Prostration Were the Motives For the Rash Act—Inquest Held—Remains Shipped to Peoria, Ill.

Broken in health and his mind temporarily deranged by financial losses,

Herbert A. Smith, of New York City,

committed suicide during Saturday night by shooting himself through the temple at the home of his aunt, Mrs. A.

F. Phillips, No. 227 South Main street.

The deed was committed about midnight and did not become known until 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Smith was in very poor health and it was his custom to remain in bed until late in the forenoon. When he did not arise at the usual time yesterday morning nothing was thought of it by his relatives as they supposed he was sleeping, but when 2 o'clock came and he did not appear, Mrs. Phillips rapped on his door to call him to dinner. No response was made and it was then that the family became alarmed. Mr.

Phillips tried the chamber door but found it locked.

Discover a Ghastly Sight.

Accompanied by his son Herbert, who is here from Hammond, Ind., on a visit,

he summoned his son-in-law, John

Soulman, who resides next door to him and the three secured a ladder and placed it on the window of the room occupied by Mr. Smith. Mr.

Phillips then mounted to the window and looking in discovered Smith, whose face had assumed a ghastly, yellow hue, lying in a natural attitude on the bed, and knew at a glance that he was dead, but did not suspect that he had suicided.

He turned to the two men below and said simply, "He is dead," then entered the room and without glancing at the body went to the door, unlocked it and proceeded down stairs to notify his wife.

Mr. Soulman and Herbert Phillips

had in the meantime entered the house through the front door. The former went up stairs and made the discovery that the unfortunate man had shot himself through the right temple and, still holding the revolver in his right hand, Mr.

Soulman then went below and apprised the family and asked if he should not remove the weapon from the dead man's hospitals there. He was suffering from heart disease and extreme nervous prostration, had experienced several sinking spells at which times he would fall unconscious to the floor and had been told that he was liable to die in one of them.

About two weeks ago Mr. A. F. Phillips received a letter from him stating that he was much broken in health and asking if it would be convenient to have him rest up here for a while. Mr. Phillips did not wait for the mail to answer but telegraphed for him to come on the first train.

Mr. Smith arrived in this city a week ago last Thursday and was so weak upon his arrival that he could hardly stand, but after being here a few days he had been very despondent and some of his actions caused his friends to believe that he was not just right in his mind.

Suffered Nervous Prostration.

"I was called to the Phillips home to attend Mr. Smith a week ago Sunday, when he was suffering with a severe sinking spell," said Dr. Buckmaster, at the inquest this morning. "He called on me Wednesday last, and I found him to be in a state of extreme nervous prostration. He was exceedingly melancholy and told me that he had often considered making away with himself. I endeavored to cheer him up and told him what a shock such a thing would be to his relatives. He forced a laugh, however, and said there was no danger of it as he was too much of a coward to kill himself."

Deceased was born in Peoria, Ill., in the year 1859. His father, mother, brother and sisters are all dead and the only relatives he has living are two aunts, one of whom is Mrs. A. F. Phillips of this city, and an uncle who lives in Newark, N. J.

The body will be sent to Peoria, Ill., for interment.

COAL ADVANCES 25 CENTS THIS TIME

NO SEASON CONTRACTS BEING MADE BY DEALERS

Price of Anthracite To Be $6.50 on

September 1—There Will Be a Great Shortage This Winter—

Those Who Made Contracts Early

Will Be Pinched Hard.

Janesville people will pay dearly for the comfort of sitting beside a coal fire

this winter and protecting themselves from the chilly blasts, there having been another advance in the price of that commodity, the second in the past six weeks. The Milwaukee Sentinel of this morning in speaking of the market says:

"W. H. Simpson of the Northwestern Fuel company, said yesterday that the price after Sept. 1 would be $6.50 instead of $6.25 a ton. This is the second advance in the price of hard coal made here in six weeks, the price having been increased from $6 to $6.25 July 1."

"Our prices are for immediate delivery. No season contracts made."

This sign, conspicuously placed in all the offices of the local coal dealers, indicates the coal situation in Milwaukee.

It means that the local dealers fear they will not get in enough coal this season to fill any additional contracts they may make. The situation as summed up by Mr. Simpson, Saturday, is a discouraging one for both the dealer and the small consumer.

Big Local Shortage.

"At the beginning of last season," said Mr. Simpson, "there was on the local docks about 500,000 tons of coal.

The receipts for the entire season were about 1,600,000 tons, making a total of about 2,000,000 tons on hand last year.

At the opening of navigation this year, a month later than usual, all this coal had been used and our docks were clear.

We began the season with practically no coal. Since then we have received about 600,000 tons. To have as much coal on hand at the end of this season as there was last, we would have to receive about 1,500,000 tons. Allowing four months more for navigation, it would be necessary to receive here about 400,000 tons of coal a month to place us on the same footing that we were last year. It is highly improbable, if not impossible, to get in that amount, though that is largely a matter for speculation. It all depends on whether we can get boats enough, and it now looks as though we would not be able to get but very few boats. Why, even the iron ore men are still looking for boats, and with rates for iron ore at $1.50 and for coal at .80 cents, the coal men will have to do some lively bidding to get any of the boats not yet chartered.

Single Early Contracts

"The worst phase of the situation" is that the coal dealers made contracts with the manufacturers at the beginning of the season on the basis of 40 cents a ton for freight. On this basis we made 10 to 15 cents a ton on coal.

These contracts must now be filled by us, though freight rates are now 80 cents a ton, and likely to be $1 a ton before the season closes. There isn't a coal dealer in the district who will make any contracts now for future delivery, owing to the burdensome contracts they already have on hand."

"The reason I have referred to the lake freight charges solely is that we are compelled to pay 60 cents a ton more than Chicago by rail. That is worse than paying the high lake rates, and if we were compelled to get in coal

BADLY INJURED IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

MRS. EDWARD M'CRIBBEN THE UNFORTUNATE LADY.

Thrown Violently From a Wagon

This Morning—No Bones Broken,
But Badly Bruised—Internal Injuries

Feared—Dr. E. F. Woods Surmised—Taken to Sister's Home.

Mrs. Edward McCribben, who resides near the School for the Blind, a daughter of Mrs. Martin Ryder, met with quite a serious accident this morning.

The lady was bringing a load of milk to town with a team and when the bridge near Milwaukee's was reached, the horses took fright at a passing train and ran down the hill. The wagon was overturned and the lady was thrown violently to the ground. She was picked up by Chauncey Milmore and brought to the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary Monahan, 153 East Milwaukee street.

Dr. E. F. Woods was called and made an examination which revealed that the lady was badly bruised, but fortunately no bones were broken. The attending physician fears, however, that internal injuries have been received.

FASHIONS IN FRANCE

What a Keen Observer Sees at Aix-les-Bains.

By Henriette Rousseau.

In order to have money enough left to pay postage on my letters, I left Biarritz for Aix-les-Bains, where there is a marked difference in prices. There is also a marked difference in the number of people. And, as near as an outsider can tell, it is just as grande monde as at the other place. You hear nothing but cotte and duchesse and that and marquis and princesses occasionally. If all the people one hears called by those titles really own them, then all the flower of the old nobility of France is here. These people make it a law almost as unchangeable as the laws of the Medes and Persians to go to the Vernissage in Paris, the Grand Prix, and then to one or the other of the watering places, after which they take up life in their country houses until November. Then nothing satisfies them but Paris, where opera, theater, ball and mercy knows what all besides keep them going like mad.

It must be confessed, though, that all these noble ladies are elegantly dressed, with a taste entirely Parisian. It is at these watering places and at the chateaux that the new fabrics and colors are worn which are expected to be fashionable in the fall for everybody else.

It is even shrewdly suspected that some of the manufacturers get down on their knees and beg some of these leaders of fashion to design to accept a piece of their goods and have it made and send the bill for the making to them. A story is told that a clever young duchesse, knowing well the value of her name, made a little deal with the dressmakers whereby the fabric was literally covered with real lace, sewed on in such a flimsy way that after wearing the gown a couple of times as it was she had the lace ripped off and used to trim two other dresses, and the manufacturer paid the bill!

Among the swiftest of the promenade gowns there is one tint or color only. This is generally so light that it looks white in some lights, and in others it shows only the faintest hint of green, gray, tan or blue. There are some new woolen goods of light texture and almost flimsy weave. These are not even made in tailor style, but in any way that strikes the fancy of the dressmaker, and that means generally that they are incrustated with heavy lace. One very elaborate promenade toilet was made of soft dove colored cashmere pastel. This is the very sublimated essence of all the cashmeres ever before seen. It is elastic and yet firm, while at the same time it falls in most ideally artistic folds. Therefore

PROMENADE COSTUME AT AIX-LES-BAINS
It can be made to fit like the traditional glove around the hips and to sweep off into the most graceful of curves at the bottom.

The lovely young Duchesse Rochefoucauld-Deaudeville wore the beautiful gown mentioned. The sleeves were nearly tight and had stiffish straps of folds of dark dove colored satin. There are several shades of dove color. The dress was cut in princess shape, and all the upper part was covered with the heaviest Limerick lace in cuirasse form. This was applied solidly to the dress itself. It was cut in sharp, deep points, which were edged with white satin folds, and these formed diamonds up the sides, filled in by pieces of the dark satin. Down all the seams were rows of rich lace insertion. Directly around the bottom were several very narrow and close folds of satin. The collar was high and pointed behind the ears.

The hat was a picture in itself, being of gray satin stretched over a frame and faced with sapphire blue velvet and with a row of lace points. Three large white plumes finished it, with a little gray satin drapery and one rosette. Blue and gray rarely look well together, but they did in this hat. The illustration will show the new mantel-let, which bids fair to become a favorite bit of attire, and it carries its hint of directoire days. This one is of cashmere to match the dress, with a little white silk embroidery and a deep knotted silk fringe of the same shade. In the back it is gathered under a large gilt or filigree buckle or fancy passementerie. Some of them have fringe all around.

Fine mull dresses are seen with an applique of colored flowers cut from silk, in rather large and vague design, much like the cheney silk. They are sewed to the muslin by a tiny line of lace insertion. No one can tell how pretty they are. One young lady of very distinguished appearance had flowers cut out in this way, but sewed under the mull, which gave it a still more delicate effect.

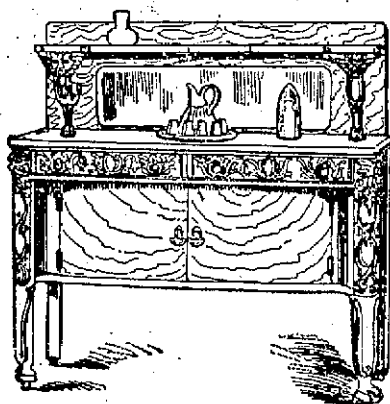

The sweet little Countess de la Boulaye with her two young daughters were much admired. The mother walked along slowly, attired in a pearl gray woolen dress, cut to bring out every line of her dainty figure. It was overlaid with lace on the skirt. Over it she wore a jacket of deep crimson cloth with revers and plain vest of the same color. The vest, too, had revers. A wide row of lace of the dark cerise shade went around the high collar and all around the skirt of the coat. There were pockets.

It faintly reminded one of the Louis XIV jackets. With this the pretty little countess wore a regular poke bonnet with strings of red gauze and a big rosette of the same upon the crown. Her daughters wore cream colored wool grenadine, with pale pink velvet accessories. This lady has had one of the most tragic and romantic histories ever known in real life. Assassination and shipwreck were among her trials, and the sudden and awful death of her husband in China thrilled the world.

A DUTCH SERVING DRESSER.

This old Dutch style of dresser, designed from the famous furniture of the feudal times, has of late years nearly fallen into disuse, but is being revived at the present season. It has a richly carved front and a broad serving board. There are a beautiful French mirror, a shelf above, supported by two beautifully carved winged heads, two drawers and a large closet beneath for silverware and linen. The legs are in the old fashioned Flemish style. This antique piece of furniture takes the place of a sideboard and is more desirable, as it opens beneath, making it convenient to sweep beneath without removing.

Ancient Feeding Bottles.

Most people are of opinion that feeding bottles for babies must be an invention of modern times. This, however, is not the case, according to Professor Mosby, who, lecturing recently before an antiquarian society, stated that it was the custom among the Greeks for the nurses to carry a sponge full of honey in a small pot to stop the children from crying. The professor went on to say that there are two Greek vases in the British museum, dating from 700 B. C., which closely resemble the feeding bottles used subsequently by the Romans. In the old Roman cemetery of St. Sepulcher, Canterbury, a feeding bottle of bright red polished ware was dug up in 1861, and Professor Mosby came to the conclusion that this bottle must have been buried with the little Roman child to whose wants it had ministered during the child's lifetime.

A Woman's Control of Her Bicycle.

Appropos of the sad accident which befell several of the party of school teachers cycling down a steep hill on Staten Island a few days ago, the writer notes a paragraph from the London Queen speaking of the alarming number of accidents among women cyclists. "It is some slight consolation to find that in nearly every case of highway accident at a certain place," states the article, "the cause is thus explained, 'She lost control of her wheel.' Would not this sentence make a good epitaph? It expresses the cause of all our failures. In nine cases out of ten to control yourself is to control your wheel. People who keep their heads, who do not get flurried, rarely meet with this particular kind of accident, the one in which the machine runs away being no longer under control."—Brooklyn Citizen.

Hot Tea For Warm Weather.

The advocates of tea as a warm weather beverage cannot find words sufficiently laudatory with which to express their opinion of the merits of this thirst quenching drink, particularly for those whose duties compel them to be much out of doors during the heat of the day. It is scalding hot tea that is prescribed, and when carefully and properly made it is said to be an invaluable restorative to a person feverish or exhausted by exposure to the sun or high temperatures.

What to Use.

The proper way to frame the now fashionable miniature photographs is the carved black frame with narrow band of silver. The mat should also be of stained black oak placed close to the picture itself. Portraits framed thus are wonderfully effective and beautiful and not to be regarded in the mere vulgar light of the photograph.

Cigar-Makers Combine.

Tampa, Fla., Aug. 12.—Consolidation of the leading cigar manufacturing interests of Tampa, Key West, New Orleans and Havana is in progress. The plan is for all the large factories in the four cities named to enter into a co-operative body or trust. Each factory is to be appraised at its value and the owners to be allowed a corresponding amount of stock in the consolidation. Twenty-nine factories have signed the agreement.

Oh, the Pain of Rheumatism!

Rheumatism often causes the most intense suffering. Many have for years vainly sought relief from this disabling disease, and are to-day worse off than ever. Rheumatism is a blood disease, and Swift's Specific is the only cure, because it is the only remedy which can reach such deep-seated diseases.

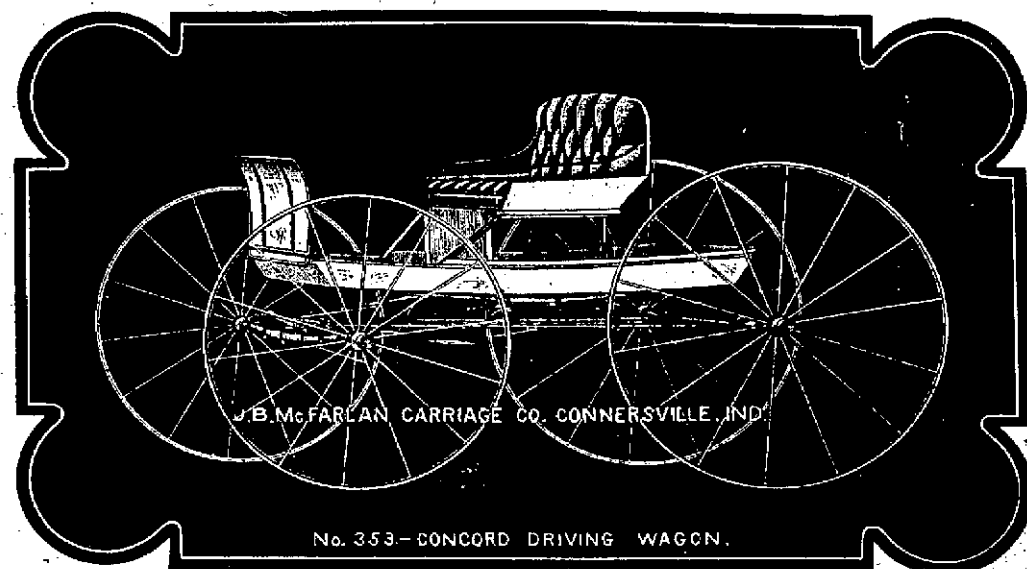

A few years ago I was taken with inflammatory Rheumatism, which became so intense that I was for weeks unable to walk. I tried several prominent physicians and took their treatment faithfully, but was unable to get the slightest relief. In fact, my condition seemed to grow worse, the disease spread over my entire body, and from November to March I suffered agony. I tried many patent medicines, but none relieved me. Upon the advice of a friend, I decided to try S. S. S. Before allowing me to take it, however, my guardian, who was a chemist, analyzed the remedy, and pronounced it free of potash or mercury. I felt so much better after taking two bottles, that I continued the remedy, and in two months I was cured completely. The cure was permanent, for I have never since had a touch of Rheumatism though many times exposed to damp and cold weather.

Don't suffer longer with Rheumatism. Throw aside your oils and liniments, as they can not reach your trouble. Don't experiment with doctors—their potash and mercury will add to your disability and completely destroy your digestion.

WINE OF CARDUI

WOMEN WHO WORK.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 12.
Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. Have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine for Change of Life and was greatly relieved.

MISS MARGARET WALSH.

WINE OF CARDUI

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhoea, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

Druggists sell Large Bottles for $1.00.

Buggy Tastes are Changing

The monotonous style of vehicle of a few years ago does not find place with the up-to-date buyer of today.

The demand for rigs of natty appearance increases each season. This year the swell turnouts combine comfort with style. The open runabout buggy with elliptic springs and rubber tires, or the top buggies with rubber tires, have a tendency to make the person who has no outfit a trifle envious. Handsome Buggies do not cost as much as you think for. Prices are reasonable and the rigs are the best.

BIG REDUCTION IN WAGES.

Action of Cambria Steel Company Likely to Cause a Strike.

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 14.—What is probably the record for a big reduction of wages went into effect in the structural department of the Cambria Steel company this morning. The reduction ranges between 70 and 80 per cent. The straighteners of the large beams will have their wages cut to about $3, while the holdups will be paid on a scale that will average them about $1.50 a day. The workmen declare that the straighteners had been making an average of $15 or $16 a day, and that the holdups averaged from $6 to $7 for their work. They claim that they were not overpaid even at that rate, for the beams are very heavy and the work is so severe on the men that they can endure it for only a few years. A general strike of the straighteners and holdups is looked for.

Urges Union for Defense.
City of Mexico, Aug. 12.—El Tiempo, clerical organ, intimates in a leading article that the United States is the common enemy of all nations on this continent, and advises the Latin American nations to unite for common defense. The article concludes:

"As for Mexico, inasmuch as she is not in a position, owing to her remoteness, to enter into alliance with the most important nations of South America, she must at least adopt a policy of rapine toward all her neighbors to the south. And in the first place with Guatemala, which has always hitherto been our enemy, owing to the support which Mexico has constantly given to Salvador in its disputes with Guatemala. It is certainly impolitic, seeing that Mexico has a natural enemy in the ambitious republic of the north, that it should encourage the enmity of its neighbors to the south."

Stewart Believes in Expansion.
New York, Aug. 14.—A special dispatch to the Times from Washington says: "In reply to a question concerning his views on expansion Senator Stewart of Nevada said today: 'We have expanded, and it is no longer a question whether or not we are in favor of it. It makes no difference whether the United States had a right to buy these islands, or whether Spain had a title to dispose of. The fact remains that we did buy them; and we are there now to give the natives an opportunity to rule themselves. The policy of the United States in the Philippines has not been aggressive enough. I believe a more vigorous campaign will be waged in future.'"

Hay to Confer with McKinley.
Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 14.—The president decided at the last moment not to attend church Sunday, but instead went for a drive with Mrs. Mc-

Mrs. Morris' Letter to EVERY WIFE AND MOTHER.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 14,393]
"I have taken eight bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with gratifying results. I had been married four years and had two children. I was all run down, had falling of womb with all its distressing symptoms. I had doctored with a good physician, but I derived very little good from his treatment. After taking a few bottles of your medicine, I was able to do my work and nurse my seven-months-old babe. I recommend your medicine to every wife and mother. Had I time, I could write much more in its praise. I bid you God's speed in your good work."—Mrs. L. A. MORRIS, WELAKA, PUTNAM CO., FLA.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I commenced the use of your remedies I was very bad off. Every two weeks I was troubled with flowing spells which made me very weak. I had two of the best doctors, but they did not seem to help me.

"They said my trouble was caused from weakness and was nothing to worry about. I felt tired all the time; had no ambition. I was growing worse all the time until I began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now able to help about the house, and am much improved in health."—Mrs. A. WALKER, CALICOON DEPOT, N. Y.

McKinley, who has been prevented by the cold, rainy weather from going out doors for the last two or three days. Secretary of State Hay will be here on Tuesday, coming from his summer home at Newbury, N. H. The greatest importance is attached to the secretary's visit here at this time, as it is believed that he is coming to confer with President McKinley regarding the many questions of state arising from America's new possessions.

WILL KEEP OUT OF THE WAR.

Nations Not to Interfere in the South African Trouble.

London, Aug. 14.—The government, it is authoritatively stated, has now obtained definite assurance that the European powers will not interfere if President Kruger, by persisting in his refusal to submit his outlandish franchise proposals to a commission, brings negotiations to a standstill, with war as the only sequel.

The Johannesburg correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "The government is awaiting the approval of the Orange Free State and the Cape Colony ministry before replying to the proposal of Mr. Chamberlain to submit the franchise controversy to a joint commission of inquiry."

The Times, in a special article on the Transvaal situation, says: "In the event of war, in addition to 12,000 troops from India, 30,000 will be sent from Great Britain, making the total British force 55,000."

Johannesburg, Aug. 14.—The Transvaal government, it is reported, has provisionally arranged with the Netherlands South African Railway company for mobilization on the shortest notice if required. Immense stores of provisions and war materials have been collected at Pretoria. It is rumored that orders have been issued to mobilize the artillery reserve.

It is alleged from Boer sources that the government proposes to introduce a passport law, aiming to prevent outlanders from leaving the country without permission in the event of war.

Cape Town, Aug. 14.—A meeting of prominent Afrikaner leaders here advocated acceptance by the Transvaal government of Mr. Chamberlain's joint commission proposal. The Portuguese have detained the steamer Reichstag, from Hamburg, June 23, at Delagoa bay. She has on board 15,000 rifles and other war material consigned to the Transvaal government.

Big Deal With Crow Indians.

Crow Indian Agency, Mont., Aug. 14.—The government commissioners have effected an agreement with the Crow Indians which will become a treaty when ratified by congress. About 1,000,000 acres of land will be purchased on the northern end of the Crow reservation from Fort Custer to Yellowstone river and from Pryor creek to the eastern boundary of the reservation, embracing the lower Big Horn and other small streams. This leaves the Crows 2,500,000 acres, and the money will make them independent in time, while the land bought will furnish homes for thousands of civilized people. The price to be paid is about $1 per acre in payments.

Brown to Lead the Bolders.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 14.—The returns from the different county meetings Saturday indicate that the state will be fully represented here at the anti-Goebel democratic convention next Wednesday. It is conceded that the state ticket will be headed by former Gov. John Y. Brown and Mayor P. P. Johnston for governor and Lieutenant-governor against the nominees of the Louisville convention, and the rest of the ticket will be named without opposition. The resolutions will reaffirm the Chicago platform, endorse Bryan and free silver and denounce the Goebel election law and its author and the chairman and the action of the Louisville convention.

Cordial Toward United States.

Berlin, Aug. 14.—The National Zeitung declares that a marked improvement in commercial and political relations between Germany and the United States is approaching. The value of Germany's exports to the United States for the first half of 1899, it says, shows an increase of $3,000,000 over the corresponding period in 1898, and in view of the general improvement in relations between the two countries, it would be reasonable to expect that Germany would be more cordial and uncoiled for.

Union Men Control Pensions.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The special committee from the Grand Army of the Republic which recently investigated the administration of the pension office by Commissioner H. Clay Evans is preparing a report which will be presented to the encampment at Philadelphia. It will show that the entire organization of the pension bureau is controlled by men who served in the Union army.

Money for Foreign Missions.

Old Orchard, Maine, Aug. 14.—The collection of the Christian alliance convention Sunday for foreign missions reached $54,881, and in one respect it was the equal of any collection taken up by Dr. Simpson, in that it had behind it the most money. The pledges were in general made by business men, and no one was urged to give anything on faith, as heretofore.

Reed May Stay in Congress.

New York, Aug. 14.—The possibility that Thomas Brackett Reed will stay in congress and fight the expansion policy of the administration is creating a stir in republican circles. By a high authority it is said that Mr. Reed is seriously entertaining the idea of continuing in congress. When Mr. Reed arrived on Saturday from Europe he evaded all questions on the subject. It will be possible for Mr. Reed to retain his seat in congress and begin the practice of law at the same time.

New Rations for Army.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The adjutant-general Saturday called Gen. Otis asking if it was desirable to have an emergency ration for the Philippines. Chief Commissary Brainard at Manila replied, asking for 100,000 emergency rations in wrappers. It is probable that Gen. Otis thinks it well to have the rations on hand, in case the army should move beyond the point of immediate transportation when the campaign in the Philippines is begun.

Europe Not in Danger.

Washington, Aug. 14.—In regard to the recently reported danger that the bubonic plague would reach Europe and England in its march for the westward Surgeon-General Irwin of the marine hospital service has written from London to Surgeon-General Wyman under date of July 24: "It does not appear that there is any expectation here that the bubonic plague is likely to extend much beyond its present limits."

Port Arthur Now a Seaport.

Port Arthur, Texas, Aug. 14.—Port Arthur is now a seaport. The steamship St. Oswald, decorated with flags and streamers, entered the ship canal at 1 o'clock Sunday and steamed through at a speed of eight knots. The vessel was met by almost the entire population of the city. As for two years assertions have been made that the canal would never be finished, there is much rejoicing at the completion of the work.

Canal Conference Tomorrow.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 14.—Representatives of the Upper and Lower Illinois Valley associations will meet in Peoria Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of completing arrangements for a river convention to consider the canal and sanitary district matters. This convention was decided upon at the White Hall meeting a few weeks ago and in all probability the convention will be held in Peoria.

Recruit Kills Two Policemen.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 14.—"Big Jim," otherwise known as Wellington H. Llewellyn who enlisted in the new Thirty-fourth regiment at Globe, Ariz., is charged with double murder in the killing of Officers W. E. Griffith and Tom Clifford early Sunday morning. When resisting arrest for carrying concealed weapons. He is still at large.

Invalid Soldiers Arrive.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 14.—The transport Centennial, thirty-two days from Manila and twenty-one days from Nagasaki, arrived Sunday with about seventy-five soldiers, invalided home. The Centennial got into Nagasaki just ahead of several typhoons.

Spread of Haytian Revolt.

Cape Haytien, Aug. 14.—Monte Christi is now besieged by the insurgents and the town is without provisions.

The village of Juana Nunez, situated between Macoris and Moca, has risen in favor of Jimenez.

Now Pauncetote of Preston.

London, Aug. 14.—The title adopted by Lord Pauncetote, the British ambassador to the United States, who was elevated to the peerage a few days ago, is Baron Pauncetote of Preston, in the county of Gloucester.

COTTAGE WINDOWS.

HINTS ABOUT WINDOW SEATS AND CURTAINS FOR COUNTRY HOUSES.

Summer Draperies—Chintz Out of Fashion—A Useful and Cozy Corner. A Day Window Arrangement. Scheme for a Bedroom.

Corner window seats are a great improvement in any room to which they can be adapted. The Art Amateur, in talk about a summer cottage, its windows and window seats, says:

Usually in country dwellings there is no space between the window frames

and the side walls. That disposition saves trouble to the builder, but it looks very ugly unless treated as here suggested in our picture of a "corner window seat." The form of the seat makes the window a central feature and restores to it its proper importance.

The question what to do with our windows in summer is one that agitates the housekeeper both in the city and in the country. The heavy curtains used in winter are obviously out of the question, and even elaborate lace curtains do not accord with the simplicity that ought to reign. Still, many people are distressed by absolute bareness. For these there are materials that may be used. Those already suggested are suitable for the simplest apartment. Still lighter in appearance is the new fashionable Singapore net, a very open mesh, usually in shades of dull red and ecru.

Chintzes are out of fashion, but Indian cotton prints, which have much the same look, though without the glaze, may be obtained in great variety. For an expensively fitted room the modern imitations of the old Spanish and Italian colored laces are very suitable. They can be had as yet through a few of the largest importing houses only and are quite costly. The colored figures are usually in silk. Still, much the same effect may be obtained by carefully staining with appropriate tints the figures of an ordinary lace window curtain.

Even without a curtain the light may be partially excluded and the look of bareness avoided by the judicious use of a little stained glass, or instead of it Hindoo pierced brass, which comes in thin sheets and can be cut and bent to any shape, or Japanese stencils of stiff, tough paper, very pretty in design. Our "day window" shows what use may be made of a hanging pot of musk or other trailing plant and of gayly colored cushions and a white foxskin rug. In the furnishings of windows and window seats the hot colors of some stuffs from tropical countries must be used in moderation. In the countries from whence they come these are either paled down by the excessively brilliant sunshine or tempered by the almost complete darkness of the rooms. In the diffused light of our apartments they are apt to look gaudy, especially when of cheap material. But Indian reds and yellows can be used to advantage with a sufficient body of cooler colors—indigo, white, Nile green, and the like.

The Art Amateur also advises that a bedroom in the summer cottage which it describes may be hung with paper of a plain tint, or at a little greater expense with grass cloth, green or dull blue. The bedspread is of dotted swiss over pale green or blue silesia to correspond with the wall covering. The window curtains also are of dotted swiss, which forms a pretty pattern with diamond shaped window panes showing through it. The furniture is mainly of bent rattan, including the gracefully shaped dressing table with its oval mirror frame. The bed is of brass and enameled iron and the desk of oak.

Delectable Rice Pudding.

Rice pudding in its simplest form is delicious, but it is often spoiled by the addition of eggs and raisins. Properly made it should contain only rice, milk, salt, sugar and nutmeg in the proportion of one-quarter of a cupful of rice to two quarts of milk, the remaining ingredients being added to suit individual taste. It should be baked in a slow oven for fully two hours, and as often as a yellow crust forms over the top it should be stirred under. So made and served icy cold it is delectable, according to Table Talk.

TWO BROTHERS

Killed in England by One Stroke of Lightning.

New York Press: Two brothers were killed in Tattenhall, Chester, England, by one stroke of lightning recently, and certain circumstances that surrounded the affair were so unusual that the attention of medical men has been called to it officially. The two men were driving in a dogcart in a thunderstorm when they seem to have fallen simultaneously out of the back of the vehicle, for they were found about five minutes after the flash lying side by side on the road, with the seat of the dogcart under their legs and the driving apron over them. The elder brother had no external sign of injury. The younger brother was burnt over the chest and abdomen, from the neck down, not continuously, but in several circular holes from one-sixteenth of an inch to one-quarter of an inch in diameter. The metallic collar stud was fused and the skin beneath was burned. An odor of burnt flesh pervaded the vicinity. The back from the neck down was burned, but less severely than in front. The vest and shirt were charred, but the waistcoat and coat were uninjured. The woolen drawers and trousers had a hole burnt in them about two inches in diameter corresponding to a burn on the body. There were no other injuries, nor were any of the clothes torn from either of the bodies. There was no rigor mortis an hour and a half after death. The watch of one of the men was going, and seems not to have been magnetized, as it has kept good time since then. The cloth of the cushion on which the younger brother sat was burnt on its upper surface, but the wooden seat underneath was uninjured. The tailboard of the dogcart had the paint slightly singed immediately behind the younger brother; otherwise the vehicle bore no traces of the lightning. The horse was uninjured and trotted home of its own accord.

WITH THE HUMORIST.

"Your salary, I believe, is $250 a week," said the caller. It so happened that the star was in a confidential mood, and she replied: "Well, one of them is."

"One of them?"

"Yes. The salary I advertise is $250 a week, but the salary I get—well, that's another story."—Chicago Post.

"I understand that you were in that elevator which fell ten stories the other day. How did you feel as it was going down?"

"Just as I feel when I get within sight of my home at night, ten minutes late, and suddenly remember that my wife wanted me to hustle out early as she had arranged for a dinner party."—Chicago Daily News.

"When my wife buys a $15 hat she says it will last her three years."

"That's cheap enough."

"Yes; but every season she gets $5 worth of new trimmings put on it."—Chicago Record.

ON A WET, chilly day,

a drink of good whiskey often works wonders.

In its selection good judgement should be used. There is a reason for the popularity of

OLD UNDEROOF RYE.

It is the successful result of over 30 years' specialized effort in the art of blending.

Indeed, the chief secret of Old Underoof's remarkable popularity is in its peculiar combination—a combination that cannot be imitated and which gives to it a never-to-be forgotten mellowness. Stored for years, and matured in heavily charred oaken barrels. Guaranteed free from all artificial colorings and flavorings.

"How Would You Like to be the Ice Man?"

A comfortable feeling as you think of the ice man, but if you followed him up all day you would change your idea before night. The ice man would as soon take a vacation or a day off picnicking as the rest of us. Perhaps he is better entitled to it, because the ice man's life is not a happy one these hot days. But whether the ice man or yourself, if you do take a day or two off you don't want to forget the eatable end of the pleasure time. Well filled lunch baskets with well selected articles such as are found on our shelves make half the fun of camping.
